SMUGGLERS MUST GIVE UP BUSINESS

Operations to End in the Port of Havana.

HOUSE FRAUDS

Tobacco and Condensed Milk Are Brought in as Baggage

December 10 the Date Pixed Upon Which the Corruptions Must End. Open-handed Thievery.

New York, Dec. 6.-The Herald correspendent at Havana telegraphs the follow. ing to that paper:

Smuggling at the Spanish custom house in Havana will be ended December 10, Notice to this effect has been given to merchants here by the local officials, who are afraid to continue operations so near the taking over of the custom house by the American Government. Merchants, in turn, have notified consignors abroad that no packings must be shipped to arrive after that date manifested otherwise than their actual contents, and surreptitiousshipments must cease altogether.

Enormous sums in the last few months have passed into the hands of the corrupt officials. The tax thus paid by merchants yearly was stated to me today by a Spanish importer to be about $1,000,000 a Spanish importer to be have age was doubled, each official endeavoring to make as much as possible before the advent of the American administration. In this all connected have participated, from the in-spector on the wharf to the director of busy departments. Now, as many of the incumbents desire to take service in the new administration to take service in the same their past ac-tions discovered, but want to come for-ward comparatively clean handed.

Operations Were Scandalons.

Continuing, my informant said smuggling operations at the port of Havana place the close of the war had been scandalous, and bribe taking by customs officials the most open-handed thievery ever known. Smuggling at all Cuban ports known. Smuggling at all Cuban ports had always been practiced, but the peculiar conditions engendered by the hlock, ade, pecessitating the replenishment of stock, and the fact that only a short time remained to continue the befarious practice, had emboddened officials.

Articles of importaneon which were promitted by the Spanish tariff and commodities paying the highest rate of duty have been smurgied by wholesale without the slighest attempt at concealment, a schedule having been established by corrupt officials for each package, according to the size and character of the merchanto the size and character of the merchan

One of the convenient methods for the claudestine introduction of these goods has been in large pasenger trunks, for which the uniform rate charged was from $4 to $6 each, according to size. In this manner tens of merchandise have been surreptitiously brought into the city, the immense passenger traffic, chiefly from the United States, during the last few months having nided the smurglers.

s having sided the smugglers. Tobacco Favored in the Thievery. Thus also American leaf tobacco, which has lately taken the place of that formerly brought from Porto Rico, has almost flooded the market, and the local consumer has been mystified in deciding whether he has been smoking an American or a Cuban cigar. American con-densed milk, which is extensively con-sumed, and which pays almost a prohib-tive duty under the Spanish tariff, has ikewise found its way into many estab-

An amusing incident occurred a few days ago at La Machina, where all the passengers and the accompanying bag-gage are landed from incoming vessels. A steamer from the United States had just arrived and an immense quantity of baggage awaited examination. A porter in hibiting the throwing of w of any sort into the streets. A genuine norther struck which was never intended to sustain such a heavy weight, gave way, scattering cans of condensed milk in every direction. Not the least surprise was manifested. The only result was an audible smile from bystanders, while officials hastily replac-ed the milk in the trunk and ordered its Great interest was aroused in the city a few days ago by the knowledge of the fact that the municipality had decided to remove from Obispo Street the nameplates of Gen. Weyler, which is the only sign left of the desire of a subservient town council to change the name of this busy thoroughfare. The street was originally named in honor of a bishop of Havana whose riety and works of charity had endeared him to everyone. It is one of the principal business streets of the town, containing few residences, but filled from end to end with fashionable stores.

Weyler Signs Removed.

When Gen. Weyler was in office a sycaphantic councillor proposed as a compliment to the captain general that the name of the street be changed from Obispo to Gen. Weyler Street. The idea was very unpopular, but none dare make any opposition for fear be should be looked upon as unfavorable to the head of the govern-ment. This motion was accordingly pass-ed without a dissenting voice. As far as possible the old name was obliterated and marble tablets were inserted in the walls bearing a new designation, but the change was only arbitrary and the street in ordinary usage relatined its old appella ion.

An enthusiastic crowd gathered Saturday to witness the official revival of the old name by an authorized ordinance as passed by the council. Alderman Quillo was charged with the task, and workmen, amid cheers of bystanders, removed one by one the offensive tablets. As they were taken down they were broken to pieces, the crowd dancing on the shattered fragments and shouting: "Death to Wey-ler!" "Long live Cubat" "Long live the United States!" Only two p ates were pre-served as relics by curlosicy hunters.

While the Spanish officials generally are showing a disposition to co-operate fully with the Americans in bringing the city to a condition approaching cleanliness, Gen. Greene is disappointed at the til success in bringing those responsible for the abattoir to see the error of their ways.

This feeling, with the already much over-bought condition of the market, will undoubtedly result in siderably lower prices within the next days. This is the almost universal few days. This is the opinion of the Street.

Pacific Mail is still advancing. The predictions are as positive as they week ago that the stock is a good purchase. The people who make them are conservative and well informed also. The affairs of the company have more of promise at the present time than ever before. It may be considered as certain too, that Mr. Huntington will be able to take advantage of his opportunities. He is that kind of a man. The earnings of Texas Pacific for the fourth week of November decreased $10. 000; for the month, $22,865. Southern Hallway shows an increase for the wick of $88,307 and for the month of $240.475. Missouri, Kansas and Texas shows for the week a decline of $60.669 and for the month a decline of $152.365.
